

Community Engagement at The Mary Stevens Hospice

At The Mary Stevens Hospice, we support people living with incurable or life-limiting illnesses to live life to the fullest, however long that may be.

Find out how to get involved and how we can support our local community.

Care - Compassion - Kindness

How we engage with our community

Your Hospice, Our Community

Raise awareness

Learn more about The Mary Stevens Hospice through your community group or organisation. You can request a talk where we share information about our services and discuss important topics such as death, dying, and bereavement.

Attend events and build relationships

If you're hosting a local event, we'd love to participate! Invite us to set up a stall, share resources to raise public awareness of The Mary Stevens Hospice, and build relationships with our community.

Provide workshops and activities

We offer workshops and creative activities to help explore life and death topics in an engaging and innovative way. From craft sessions to book clubs, these initiatives help to open up meaningful conversations and dispel myths about hospice care.
